PFEIFFER COLLEGE

Seventy-Fifth

OBERLIN HOME AND SCHOOL — 1885

HISTORY

SEVENTY-FIVE years ago, in a remote section near Lenoir, a missionary-minded woman from Connecticut joined with local citizens to establish a small elementary school for mountain children. What began in an eleven-room frame building as Miss Emily Prudden's Oberlin Home and School is today a five million dollar educational plant at Misenheimer. From its inception Pfeiffer College has rendered outstanding service to North Carolina and to Methodism. Today over seven hundred students, representing many faiths from across the nation and the world, comprise the student body.

The years since 1885 have seen the institution in a continuous expansion of its academic scope—from grade school to high school, from junior college to senior college status. During the current year the senior college received recognition by the accrediting agencies of the region, the nation, and the church—a fitting salute on the occasion of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the institution. We are proud of our remarkable administrative leadership, of an outstanding faculty, of a spirited student body, of the imposing four hundred acre campus.

"Phenomenal growth" has become a part of the vocabulary of every Pfeifferite, but the true distinction which commands our loyalty is not growth, but constancy. An abiding devotion to Christian education, a belief in the worth of the individual, a dedication to service in the community and the world—these are the true marks of Pfeiffer College: "For Chapel Spire and Spirit . . . Alma Mater, All Hail!"

Dedication

To say that he has given a lifetime in service to education is to say that which can be said about many another man. But it is a rare individual indeed whose contribution to education has been as rich and varied and rewarding as has that of Paul Mowbray Wheeler.

A master teacher, he has guided students across the years at Columbia, Georgia School of Technology, University of Maryland, Florida Southern, Gaucher, Johns Hopkins, Winthrop, and Pfeiffer. A scholar and a poet, his gifts to literature have been permeated by a broad, human perspective. A brilliant wit (remember the telegram to his beloved mutts?), a gifted lecturer (who will forget his classic series on the Poets of Our Time?), and a dedicated churchman, Dr. Wheeler has made a lasting contribution to both education and the community at large.

Above all, Paul Mowbray Wheeler is a genuine humanitarian. However exasperating his notorious "gadgeteering," his profound personal concern for student welfare has won our gratitude and our love.

For six years now he has been our Dean. Having tended Pfeiffer's academic life during the period of its greatest growth, he now takes leave of his post. Recently he remarked that "Pfeiffer will go on and on." We predict that so long as it does, there will be those who remember it because of the stamp Paul Mowbray Wheeler left upon it.

With deep respect, we affectionately dedicate this book to

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT

All Pfeiffer College students are members of the Student Government Association. Through participation in this organization, the students learn to exercise their democratic rights by electing the officers and representatives who work in their interest.

The purpose of the Student Government Association as stated in the constitution is "to regulate all matters pertaining to the conduct of the students of the college which are not reserved to the jurisdiction of the Deans, and in co-operation with the staff and faculty, to promote the best interests of the individual student and the college."

The members of the Student Council are the president, the vice-president, the secretary, the treasurer, the president of the Men's Student Government Association, the president of the Women's Student Government Association, and two members, a man and a woman, elected from each class. The freshmen members are elected after the first semester. Ex-officio members of the Council include the President of the College, the Deon of Women, and the Deon of

GOVERNMENT

Men. The Council functions as a co-ordinating center for the other governmental organizations and endeavors to promote understanding between the administration and student body.

The Judicial Committee, composed of Student Council members, acts on violations of the college rules and regulations not designated to the Men's and Women's Student Government Associations. It also acts on any case which is referred to it from either of those organizations.

Each year for the recreation and enjoyment of the students, the Student Government Association sponsors many activities, such as parties and dances. The annual George Washington Ball, one of the social highlights of the college year, is sponsored by the Student Government Association. This year the famous bandleader, Ralph Marterie, played for this dance. Another activity sponsored by this organization is the ever popular sock hop. Sock hops are usually held after ball games and are promoted by the Student Government Association in an attempt to provide wholesome recreation for the students.

In a dank, windowless room deep beneath Gaude Hall, but well within earshot of the melodious strains of the Rec's "Lloyd Price," dwell a strange breed of creatures. Unused to light, they emerged periodically during 1959-60, uttering such cryptic phrases as "5x7 vertical pix, p. 72, reverse bleed" or "An ad, an ad—my scholarship for an ad!"

Head of this motley crew was Phil Shepard, a young man of serious demeanor and an occasional smile, who soon proved to us that he knew his onions. Chief paster-upper of notices Edie Christy served as his trusty assistant. Moneybags Marlow and his friendly sharks brought in the wherewithal. Amidst the steady clatter of typewriters, copy-readers, make-up artists, and other swains engaged in nightly chores. Perhaps the principal explosions occurred in the subterranean recesses when photographer Avant and adviser Leidig conducted their wars about film casts and flashbulbs.

But out of it all came memorable experiences, and like many another staff we leave that embattled cell with a touch of reluctance.

The Pfeiffer News —

Becky and Jae

A small but dynamic staff, under the leadership of Editors Johnson and Rhinehart, recorded an outstanding year for the bi-weekly Pfeiffer News. Under an editorial policy of "facts, fairness, and objectivity," the News broadened its scope through the selection of top-feature writers and an expanded pictorial coverage. Sound business management made it possible to publish a record number of pages this year. The newly-created position of Managing Editor made for smoother internal operation.

Perhaps the outstanding publication feat of the year was the 20-page "accreditation issue" of the News which appeared the morning following the historic announcement.

Expressing, inquiring, fielding, observing . . .

Efficiency plus!

"Would you be interested in a half-page ad?"

The typist, the artist, the circulation manager, the writer—it takes them all.

PFEIFFER PLAYMAKERS

Anyone interested in drama, either in acting or technical work, can become a member of the Pfeiffer Playmakers. From this group is chosen the casts and technical crews for the performances during the year. The cast is chosen by audition, and the students earn points for their participation in dramatics. With the accumulation of a specific number of points, a student becomes eligible for membership in the national drama fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega.

This year R. U. R., a fantastic melodrama in three acts and an epilogue, was a big success. The leading characters were portrayed by Bee Davenport, playing the role of Helena Gray, and Steve Mitchell, portraying Harry Domin.

"All right, once more from the top."

Helena steals the show.

"Robots of the world arise!"

"Heleno, will you be my wife?"

"Tell us the secret of life."

MAY QUEEN

One of the most outstanding events on the Pfeiffer calendar is composed of May Day and the presentation of the May Queen and her court. This spring the court followed the southern plantation theme which included the traditional May Pole and dance. Under the able direction of Mrs. Joan Tolbert, the Women's Athletic Association was in charge of programs, decorations, and the minute details which make May Day a delightfully colorful event.

Choreography was excellently performed by the Rhythms Class.

Miss Judith Ann Coe was elected by the Pfeiffer College student body as May Queen. Miss Coe is a Business Education major and plans to teach after graduation. Besides being a beauty queen, Judy is a cheerleader, member of the annual staff, NEA member, and a Marshal.

SPORTS

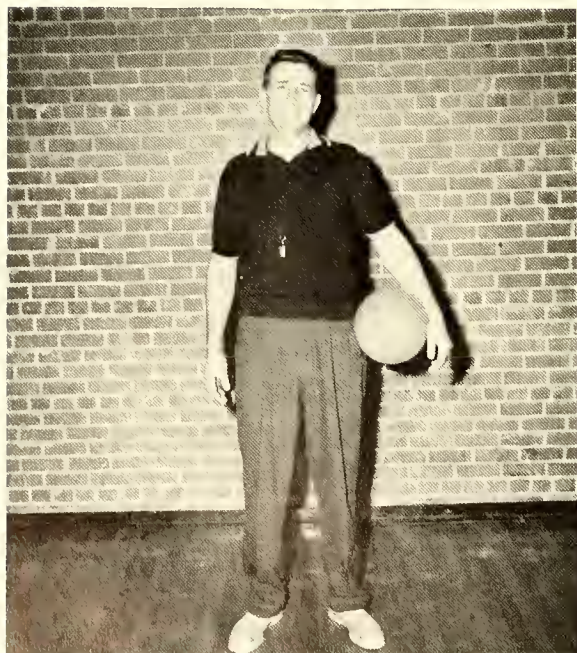

BASKETBALL

The Panthers had one of the worst seasons in Pfeiffer's basketball history. After losing by one point to Catawba the luckless ball club never seemed to get on its feet again. However, one must not criticize these men without taking a close look at the tough schedule which proved too much for them. High Point, Catawba College, Atlantic Christian, Davidson, Pembroke, and Elon all had terrific teams and winning seasons. With reserve power and experience these teams had little trouble knocking off the Panthers.

Coach Don Miller

Assistant Coach Harold Tackett

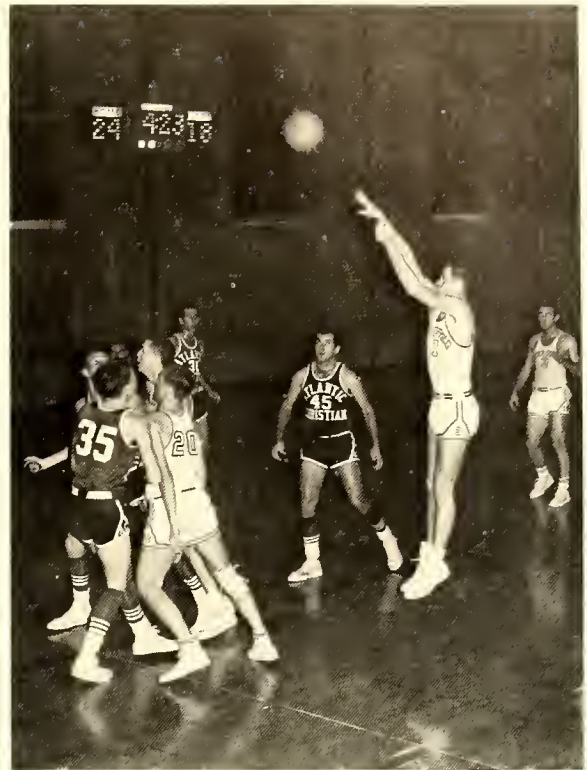

Leon Smith and Thurston Frye, co-captains

Individually, several stars stand out in the past season. Thurstan Frye's soft touch stripped the nets for a game average of just under twenty points. His rebounding, ball handling, and never-say-die spirit was obvious in every game.

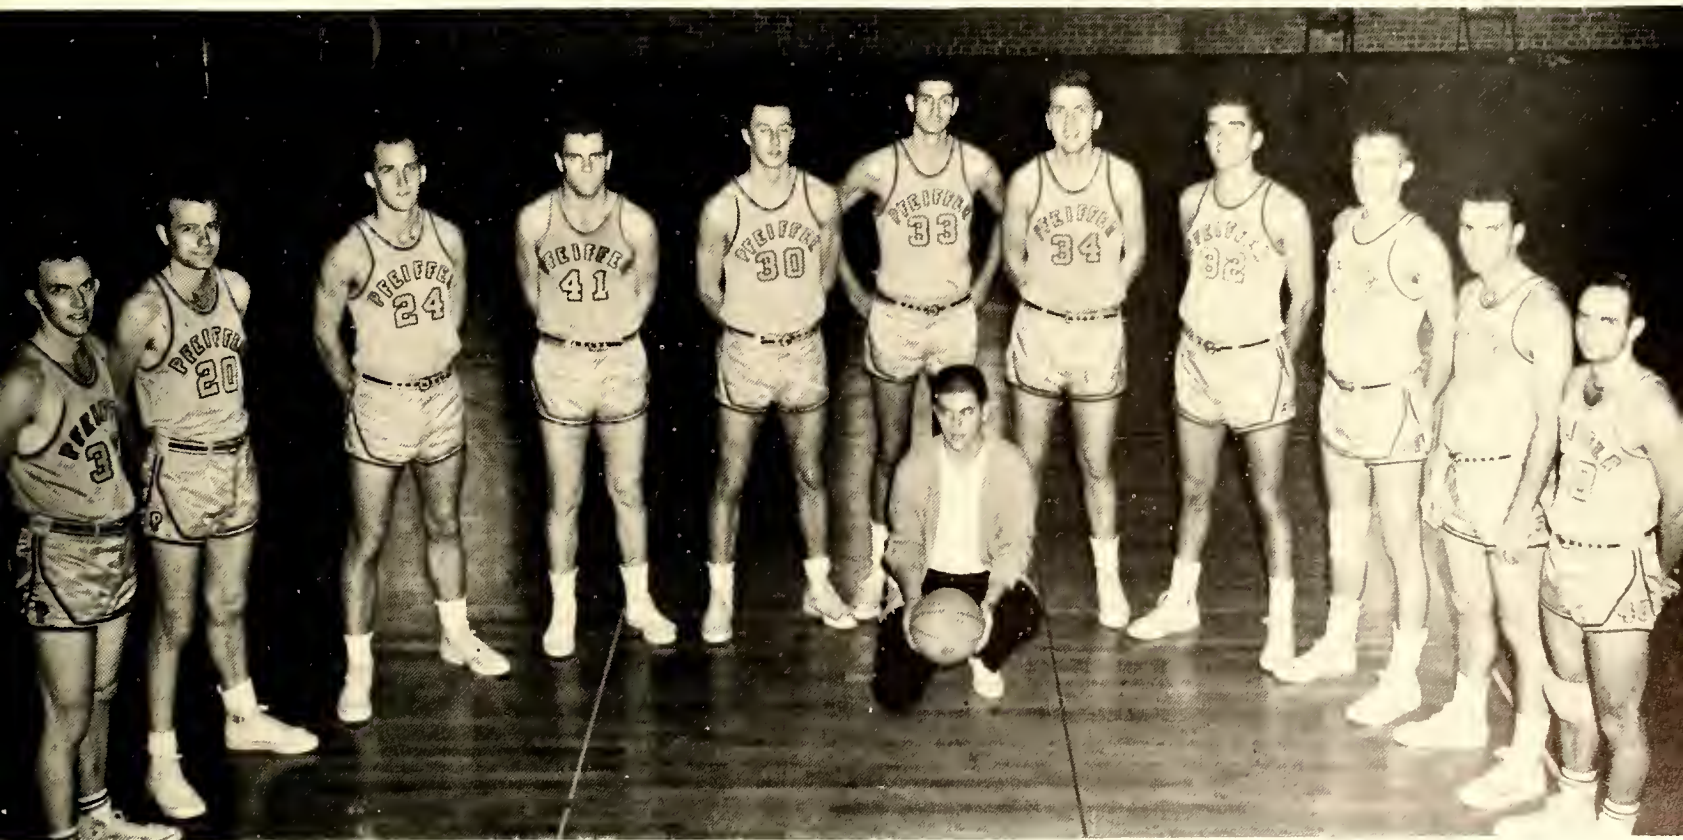

Lean Smith, a senior from Kentucky, controlled the backboards for Pfeiffer as he snatched over 200 rebounds for the Panther ball club. Hustle and determination marked his play forcing his opponents to recognize the "Bear's" constant threat.

Sophomore Bill Claypaale, with a spectacular jump shot, contributed much to the closing battle. Bill's ability to hit from any angle posed a great difficulty in containing the high scoring guard.

BASEBALL

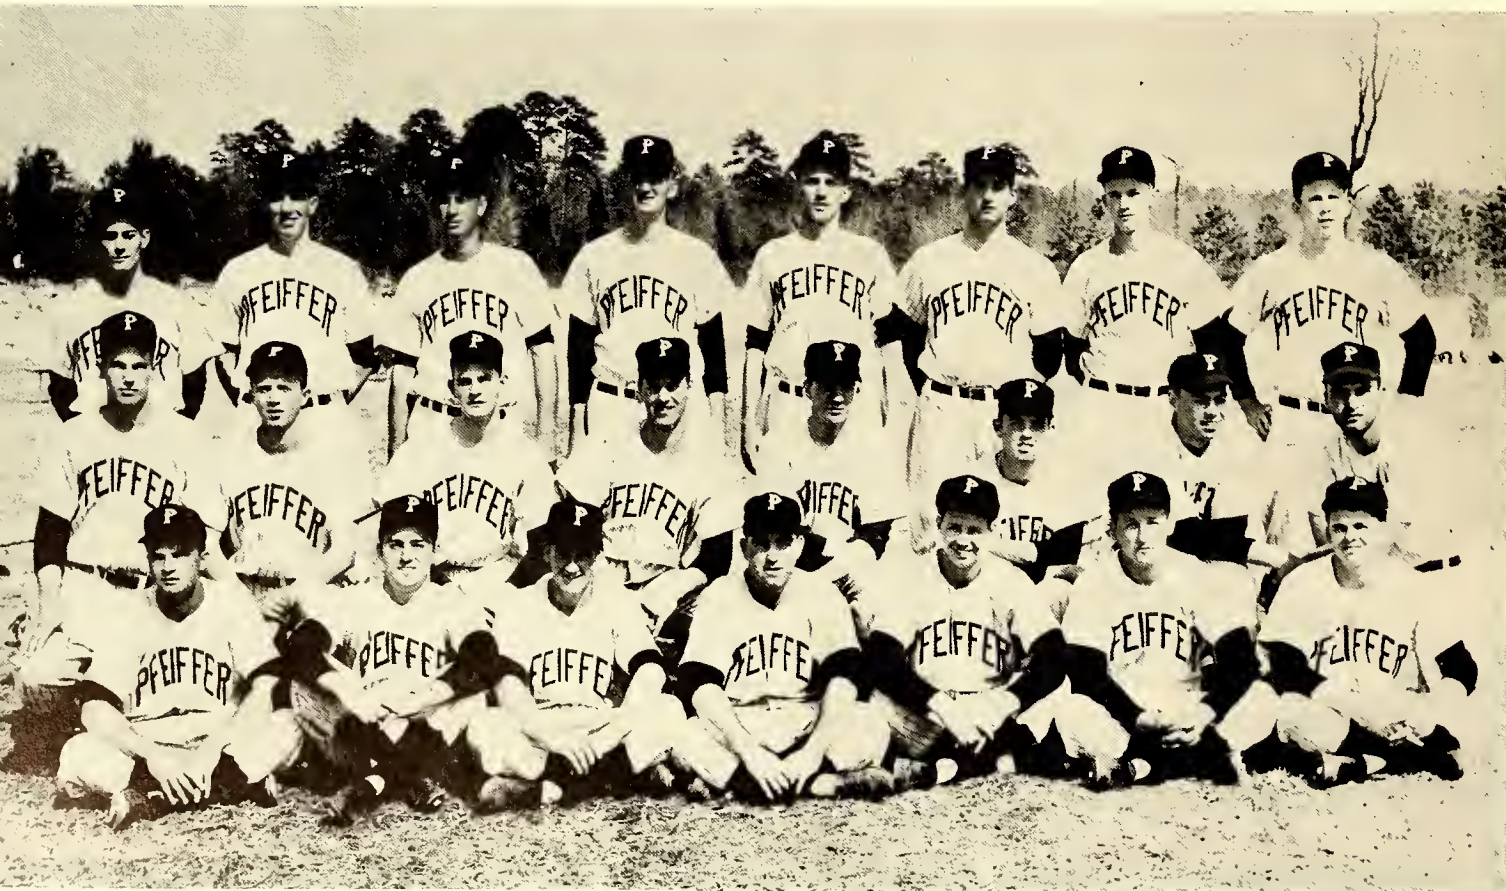

Sunny spring brought explosive action to the baseball diamond as Coach Joe Ferebee and his team continued their winning seasons by posting a 20-5 record last year. Heavy hitting, sharp fielding, and most of all, the will to win carried the Panthers to easy victory. Behind accurate pitching, the outfield and infield performances were about the best in the state.

Big league scouts with contracts in hand were common sights at Pfeiffer's baseball games. Miles McWilliams signed with Cincinnati while the Kansas City Athletics drafted Jim Caggins.

We salute the fighting Panthers and an excellent coach for a sensational season.

TENNIS

The tennis team, under the able guidance of Coach Nick Lefka, had a successful season emerging victorious over Belmont Abbey in two exciting matches. James Almond, Mike Dunham, John Stokes, and Phil Stone led the Panthers through the season and racked up consistent wins against heavy opposition.

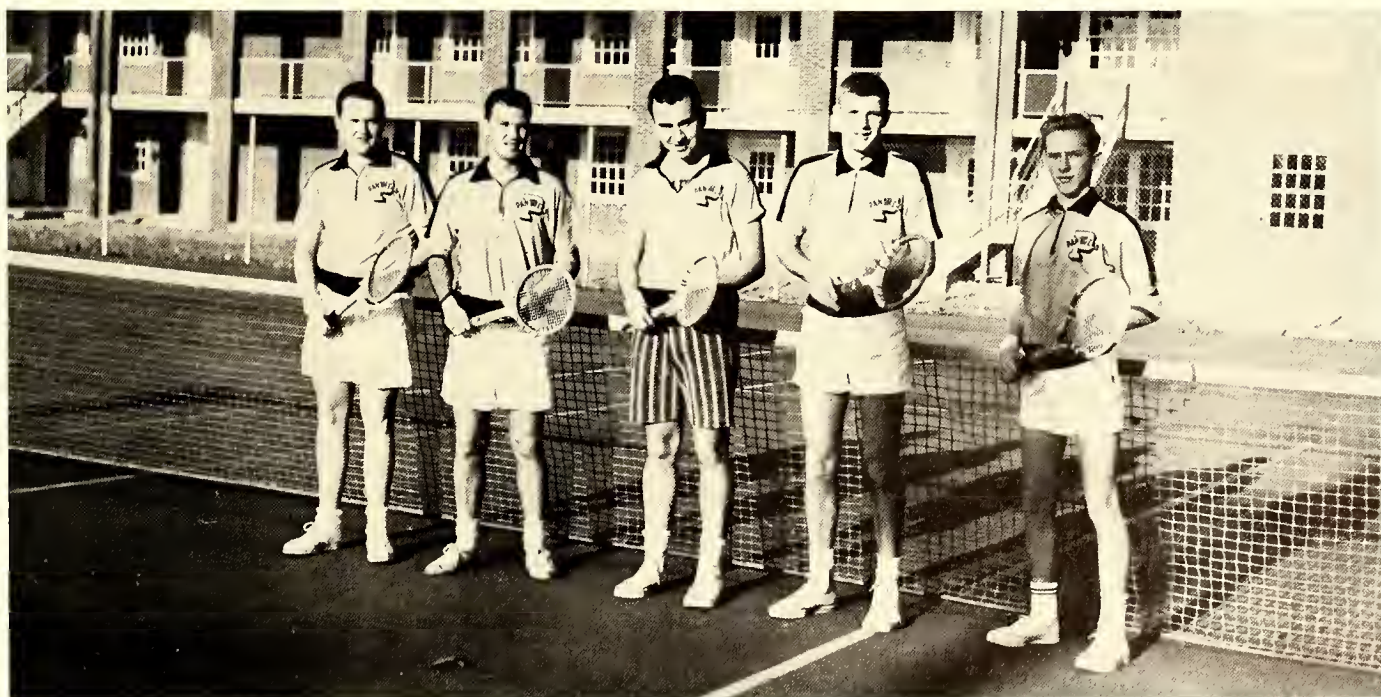

John Stokes proved himself to be the most improved player on the courts and by mid-season was winning every match he played. New talent will be seen this spring as Barry Magee enters the Pfeiffer College tennis staff. This ace from New Jersey brings an astounding win record which should solve many of Coach Lefko's problems.

SOCCER

A 1-8 season was written into the record books for the Pfeiffer boaters this year. Soccer launched its 1959 season with an enthusiastic pep rally before meeting Washington and Lee. However, in spite of determination and fighting spirit the Virginians proved too much for Coach Lefko's battling team and walked away with a 5-1 decision. It was a lean season for the win-hungry Panthers until starvation caused a late season explosion over previously undefeated Warren-Wilson College. The record does not show the grim determination, supreme effort, and long hours that went into the season's play.

Jerry "Stump" Bryson was outstanding on the playing field and showed terrific spirit throughout the long season. Other important standouts for the Pfeiffer cause were: Dennis Baldwin, Glenn Wellborn, Bruce Hayes, Gary Barringer, Red Gabriel, Bob Taylor, John Whitesides, and Tom Hudgins.

WRESTLING

Skill, determination, and physical strength go into making a great wrestler. These traits do not come to a team in one match nor in one season's play but only in the long tedious task of team building. This is the job Coach Wallace Martin has undertaken in the past seasons of wrestling. Last year, Pfeiffer matmen lost 8 matches while winning only 1. These losses were to much larger teams with more reserve power: Fort Bragg, Appalachian, Davidson, Wake Forest, and N. C. State.

With such seasoned veterans as Glenn Wellborn, Red Gabriel, Ken Cuthbertson, and Gene Whitesides returning, a winning record is predicted. Watch the Panthers flex their muscles!

GOLF

Coach Don Miller's golfers had a brilliant season last year, posting an impressive winning record. After losing to Belmont Abbey, the pros drove in 7 wins and putted 2 ties. Since 1956, the Pfeiffer team has lost only 7 matches while racking up 25 wins.

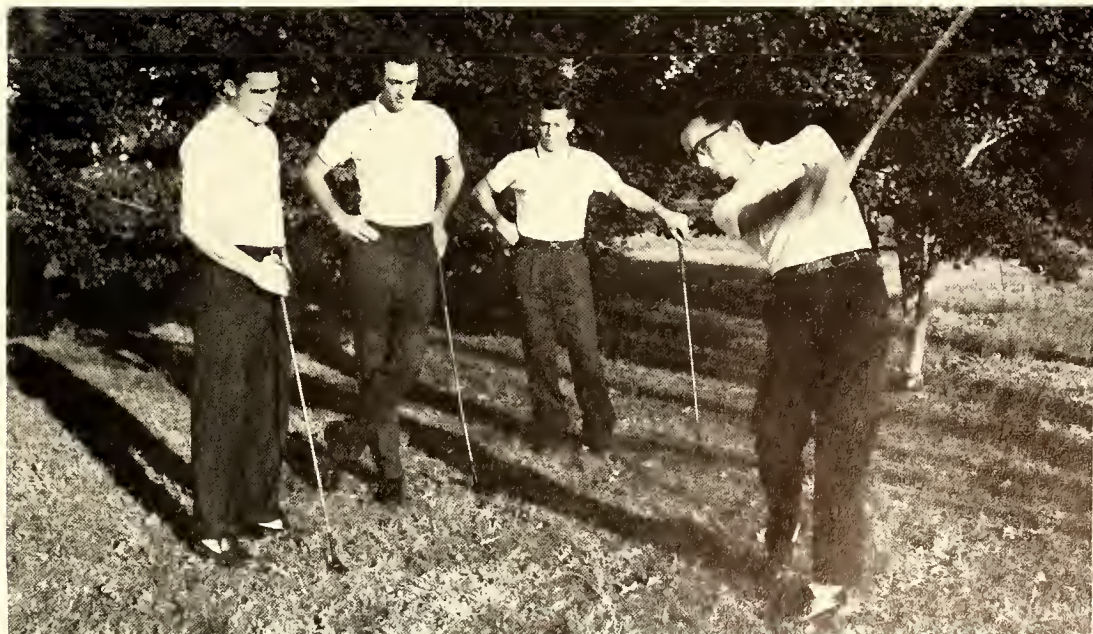

George Skomsky, Bobby Lisk, and Wayne Herbert return this spring to add power and sparkle to the 1960 team. Fore!

TRACK

Under the able direction of Coach Nick Lefko, the 1959-1960 Pfeiffer College track team will have to overcome several limitations: inexperience and lack of depth. Composed mostly of freshmen, the cindermen will have to go all out to have a winning season. Trackmen to watch will be: Bruce Hayes, Jesse Williford, Jack Wiglama and Bob Taylor.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Coach George Melton's Cross-Country squad had a long drought during the past season. Undermanned, the team consisted entirely of freshmen who had little experience in road-running. Outstanding throughout the season was Jesse Williford taking several first places against stiff competition.

CHEERLEADERS

"What's the good word?" "B-E-A-T Catawba!" This is a popular yell of the Pfeiffer cheerleaders. The cheerleaders are an essential part of all college athletic events. Elected by popular vote of the Lettermen's Club, they can be seen whooping it up at all the games.

There are six regular cheerleaders and two alternates who serve in case of the absence of one of the regulars.

Kneeling: Jerry Meachum. Standing: Judy Walker, Sylvia Bayte, Judy Cae, Myrna Hendren, Nancy Suttan, Sheilah Pfeifer, Diane Hill.

INTRAMURALS

The primary function of Intramural Activities is to promote a program of competitive activities for the voluntary participation of the Pfeiffer student body. A wide variety of team sports enables one to find an activity in which he is interested and is capable of participating. Performing in intramural sports permits one to acquire and maintain physical strength; to make new and lasting friendships; and, most important, have fun.

From The Editor

Many things go into making a yearbook—many things that the person who has not been an editor does not realize. Selection of a theme, determining the amount of copy, dedication, number and type of pictures, these are but a few of the problems to be considered when determining the layout. After the layout is completed comes the actual work of getting the materials that make up a yearbook. All these things take time and hard work. This acknowledgement is a salute to those many people who contributed so vitally to the making of the 1960 Chimes. We hope that out of our efforts has come a book that you, the student body, will be proud of.

A yearbook consists of the efforts of many people united, yet working separately, toward a common goal. Of the many people who contributed to the making of this book I would first like to thank Bill Avant who worked many long hard hours taking most of the photographs which appear in this book. The literary staff, composed of Judy Matthews, Janice Pickett, Jane Sidbury, Diane Thompson, Joy Thore, and headed by Kaye Blakely, did a wonderful job writing copy. The constant clatter of typewriters told of the long hours and hard work performed by Barbara and Marjorie Smith, typing co-editors. An excellent job was done on the classes by Peggy Gilchrist, Phil Clark, Norma Bennett, Bob Clanton, and Linda Kiker. Working hard in spite of a lack of time, in the face of innumerable sad stories told by merchants, and many other problems, the business staff composed of Kenneth Marlow, Richard Snodgrass, Linda Kiker, Helen Brewer, and Sara Durham, sold the ads necessary to keep the yearbook out of the red. For this fine job they have my sincerest thanks. Thanks are in order to David Creech for producing what I feel is one of the finest sports sections ever presented by the Chimes. Others who contributed generously of their time and energy include Dorathy Chance and Janice Small. Special thanks to Mr. Walter Gibson, Rev. A. James Clemmer, and Tom Jones of the Pfeiffer News for their contributions and wonderful assistance.

I feel that a special note of thanks is in order to Dr. Daniel Leidig, my advisor, and to Assistant Editor Edith Christy, who contributed in many, many ways to the completion of this year's book, and without whose outstanding efforts it could not have been completed.

To these and all others who contributed to the 1960 Chimes, I want to say thank you from the bottom of my heart.

Philip Shepard
